The Pink Patch Project is a collaborative cancer awareness fundraiser in partnership with law enforcement agencies across the nation. The goal of the project is to raise funds to further the research, treatment and care of those who are, or have battled cancer. Equally important is the education of the public about early detection and prevention. Participating law enforcement agencies are selling their commemorative patches with all profits going to cancer research, treatment and education. During the month of October, our uniformed personnel will proudly wear the FHDA Police Pink Patch as a reminder of our dedication and commitment to this project.
